

Living in Oxford

Homestay

Staying in a homestay gives students the opportunity to relax in a friendly, local home. This allows the learner to continue practising English in a natural setting. Homestays are carefully selected and regularly checked to ensure the very best in English hospitality.

Homestay accommodation includes:

- Single room accommodation
- Bed, breakfast and evening meal with hosts daily
- No other student who speaks the same language in the home

Travel

Oxford is well served by bus and train connections from the UK's airports and stations. Bus and train tickets are purchased by the student at the time of travel. Alternatively, a personal taxi transfer service on arrival and departure is available. The taxi reservation is made by the school and charged on the course invoice.

First day

On the first day of the programme, students take a short test of written and spoken English (if they have not done so pre-arrival) to confirm the level of English and to meet with the Lead Teacher for an analysis of language needs and progress objectives.
